BRIEF NOTE TO BERLIN

American Attitude Is Made Clear.

GERMANY IS ON TRIAL

Document Is Courteous, but Firm and Definite.

Washington, May 9.—President Wilson has put Germany on trial.

In the text of the American reply to the most recent German note on submarine warfare the imperial government is told the United States relies upon Germany to keep its promises to alter the methods of submarine warfare.

Scrupulous execution of its changed policy, the note says, will remove the danger of an interruption of the good relations existing between Germany and the United States.

At the same time the note rejects the proposal that the United States regard this abandonment as conditional upon Great Britain's action with respect to the blockade.

The note is courteous in tone, but firm and definite in substance.

It is intended to remove all doubt of the imperial government as to the position the United States has taken.

Secretary of State Lansing issued the following statement explaining why the United States cannot discuss matters pertaining to the relations between this government and Great Britain with the imperial government.

Lansing Explains Position.

"The greater part of the German answer is devoted to matters which this government cannot discuss with the German government.

"The only questions of right which can be discussed with that government are those arising out of its action or out of our own and in no event those questions which are the subject of diplomatic exchanges between the United States and any other country.

"The essence of the answer is that Germany yields to our representations with regard to the rights of merchant ships and noncombatants on the high seas and engages to observe the recognized rules of international law governing naval warfare in using her submarines against merchant ships.

"So long as she lives up to this altered policy we can have no reason to quarrel with her on that score, though the losses resulting from the violation of American rights by German submarine commanders operating under the former policy will have to be settled.

Treaty Covers British Case.

"While our differences with Great Britain cannot form a subject of discussion with Germany it should be stated that in our dealings with the British government we are acting as we are unquestionably bound to act in view of the explicit treaty engagements with that government.

"We have treaty obligations as to the manner in which matters in dispute between the two governments are to be handled.

"We offered to assume mutually similar obligations with Germany, but the offer was declined.

"When, however, the subject in dispute is a continuing menace to American lives it is doubtful whether such obligations apply unless the menace is removed during the pendency of the proceedings."

Secretary Lansing's statement refers for the first time in the submarine negotiations to the "Bryan peace treaties."

Following is the text of the note cabled by Secretary Lansing to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin with instructions to deliver it to the German minister of foreign affairs:

Complete Text of Note.

"The note of the imperial German government under date of May 4, 1916, has received careful consideration by the government of the United States.

"It is especially noted as indicating the purpose of the imperial government as to the future, that it is prepared to do its utmost to confine the operation of the war for the rest of its duration to the fighting forces of the belligerents, and that it is determined to impose upon all its commanders at sea the limitations of the recognized rules of international law upon which the government of the United States has insisted.

"Throughout the months which have elapsed since the imperial government announced on Feb. 4, 1915, its submarine policy, now happily abandoned, the government of the United States has been constantly guided and Santo Domingo Republic.

General Jiminez, who has just resigned, was impeached by the chamber of deputies May 2 on a charge of violating the constitution in connection with the budget. He has been a conspicuous figure in the political affairs of Santo Domingo for many years. A provisional president will be named to serve until affairs of the republic are adjusted.

strained by motives of friendship in its patient efforts to bring to an amicable settlement the critical questions arising from that policy.

Places Reliance in Germany.

"Accepting the imperial government's declaration of its abandonment of the policy which has so seriously menaced the good relations between the two countries the government of the United States will rely upon a scrupulous execution henceforth of the now altered policy of the imperial government such as will remove the principal danger to an interruption of the good relations existing between the United States and Germany.

"The government of the United States feels it necessary to state that it takes it for granted that the imperial German government does not intend to imply that the maintenance of its newly announced policy is in any way contingent upon the course or result of diplomatic negotiations between the government of the United States and any other belligerent government, notwithstanding the fact that certain passages in the imperial government's note of the fourth instant might appear to be susceptible of that construction.

"In order, however, to avoid any possible misunderstanding the government of the United States notifies the imperial government that it cannot for a moment entertain much less discuss, a suggestion that respect by German naval authorities for the rights of citizens of the United States upon the high seas should in any way or in the slightest degree be made contingent upon the conduct of any other government affecting the rights of neutrals and noncombatants.

"Responsibility in such matters is single, not joint; absolute, not relative."

LUMBER YARD SWEEP BY FIRE AT DULUTH

Duluth, May 9.—Fire starting in the Alger-Smith lumber yard here, which, fanned by a sixty-five mile wind, spread rapidly to other buildings, caused a loss estimated at $600,000 when the flames were brought under control several hours later.

Two boarding houses, the Joseph Laundry house and the Harbor hotel, also were burned, with a barn.

The lumber plant is near the Interstate bridge connecting Duluth and Superior. The span was saved largely by the work of the fire tug McGonagle and two tugs owned by a towing company.

The fire is believed to have been started by some days playing in the yard. Nearly 40,000,000 feet of lumber was destroyed.

East of the city two serious fires occurred. Two large dairies were destroyed, and a forest fire is burning west of Woodland. One man was killed by the top of a boxcar blown into him.

(By United Press)

Washington, May 9.—Consul Frost reports that the Cymric was in the admiralty service which presents fresh complications. If it is true that the Cymric is a war ship the United States will then be concerned, however it is improbable that the custom officials at the port of New York would grant clearance papers to a ship not neutral.

Violated Pledge if Cymric Unwarned

(By United Press)

Washington, May 9.—The officials think the torpedoing of the Cymric if unwarned violates the German pledges. The fact that no Americans were aboard does not alter the situation, as Germany pledged herself to torpedo only war vessels.

(By United Press)

Negro Troops Guarding Mexican Prisoners

There never were happier negroes in the world than the guards who took charge of the Mexicans sent as prisoners to Naniqualpa. These bandits had been taken in the various fights of American troops with the followers of Villa. General Pershing's black men acted like lords of creation while they stood guard over the disconsolate greasers.

PARIS STORY AT VARIANCE

French Describe Heavy Bombardment of Two Hills by Germans, but Say Infantry Attacks Broke Down Under Their Curtain of Fire.

Berlin, May 9.—The German official statement says:

"The operations west of the Meuse (Verdun front) in recent days have been carried out principally by Pomeranian troops. The Germans took an entire system of trenches on the northern slope of Hill 304. The German lines reached the top of the height.

"The enemy suffered extraordinarily heavy losses, so that only 40 un wounded officers and 1,280 soldiers were captured by us.

"In the Meuse sector the enemy has employed fifty-one divisions, including divisions which were used a second time after being brought up to full strength. This means fully twice the forces put in action by the Germans who are making the attack."

German Attack Stopped.

Paris, May 9.—The official communication issued by the war office reads: "On the left bank of the Meuse the bombardment continued with the same violence against Avocourt wood and the whole region of Hill 304. A German attack against our positions at Hill 287, west of Hill 304, was stopped by our curtain of fire."

PRESIDENT HOPES FOR PERMANENT PEACE.

Owls in Asia Minor

Perhaps Asia Minor is richer in crude and interesting fancies than any other country. When children hear an owl hooting from the cypress groves they cry, "Good news for us, good messages for you." If they catch an owl they hold it up by the beak and chant, "Palm Sunday owl, how does your mother dance?" The meaning of the rite is lost, but the habit lingers.

NOTICE TO WATER CONSUMERS.

The season for lawn and garden sprinkling being at hand, the Water and Light Board asks the co-operation of consumers in the carrying out of the regulations regarding sprinkling, and asks you to remember:

FIRST—That a charge for sprinkling is practically universal custom with all plants not on a meter basis.

SECOND—That the prices charged in Brainerd conform to those of other cities.

THIRD—That to meet the demands of the sprinkling season is a severe tax on the capacity of the pumping plant, and that a willingness on the part of consumers, faithfully to observe the hours for sprinkling will greatly assist in the supplying of a satisfactory service.

FOURTH—That sprinkling permits must be secured in advance.

RATES

25 Ft. frontage, per season.....$3.00

37½ Ft. frontage, per season.....$4.00

50 Ft. frontage, per season.....$5.00

Over 50 Ft. frontage, per season $6.00

The board has extended the 20% discount, heretofore granted on regular water rentals paid in advance, to apply also on the purchase of sprinkling permits.

SPRINKLING HOURS.

6 to 9 o'clock A. M., and 6 to 9 o'clock P. M.

Failure to comply with the rules will mean the shutting off of water and the customary charge of $1.00 before it is turned on again; but the board believes that by a disposition to co-operate on the part of the public, the work of this department may be greatly lessened and inconvenience to consumers be avoided.

TAKE THE JUDGMENT OF THE CITY THAT KNOWS HOW CARS are BUILT—and the STATE that KNOWS HOW CARS PERFORM!

There's no surer judgment, no more trustworthy advice to be had anywhere than that of Detroit and the State of California.

IN DETROIT the city that produces three-fourths of the country's cars—where people know cars from the technical and manufacturing sides better than they do in any other city on earth—more Studebakers were registered according to official figures in the year of 1915, than any other cars selling at more than $500.

IN CALIFORNIA the State of wonderful roads and weather—the State where people have more miles of good roads to drive over and more opportunity to use their cars than in any other State in the Union—the official figures for the year of 1915 showed 15,718 Studebakers registered—2,895 MORE than any other car listing at more than $500.

California KNOWS cars from use on the roads—Detroit knows cars from having the bulk of the industry centered in its limits. Both have made Studebaker favorite by a long lead. What better judgment can YOU follow in buying? And the reason is simply that every time a man makes even the barest comparison of a Studebaker with other cars, he finds that to get as much power, size and quality as a Studebaker offers, he must pay from $250 to $400 MORE. So they're buying Studebakers—and SAVING that $250. Why don't you see the cars—then go make that $250-saving comparison.

MOZART STUDY CLUB

Admirable Program Given at First Congregational Church is Reviewed

To an audience that would give inspiration to any artists the Mozart Study club gave their program last Friday evening in the First Congregational church that was seated to its capacity.

The entire program was received with much satisfaction, many of the selections holding the audience in breathless expectation as the artists displayed their wonderful technique and interpretation.

The Schumann number "Andante with Variations Op. 16" gave the listeners a surprise as well as admiration for the players, the graceful, sympathetic interpretation by Miss Evelyn Erickson combined with the robust pronounced movements of Miss Gladys Nitterauer made this most difficult selection a pleasing rendition to the ear.

The Spinning Song by Wagner-Liszt was the most popular on the program manifested by the applause it received; and deservingly so, the whirr of the spinning wheel, the dance of the young people and the wild scamper at the close were perfectly rendered.

Miss Mildred Skauge ably rendered the Mendelssohn "Concerto Capriccio Brilliant." This piece that occupied 15 minutes in playing held the audience from first to last, was full of attractive shading and appealing climaxes.

Chaminades "Le Matin" as played by the Misses Peterson and Nelson is one of those exquisitely pretty selections, a typical morning piece, beautifully rendered by these ladies.

The other numbers such as the "Rakoczi March" by Liszt, "Valse Tyrolienne" by Raff, "Rhapsodie Hongroise" by Liszt, and "Caprice Espagnol" were ably rendered, especially the "Caprice Espagnol" as played by Miss Nitterauer.

Possibly the most dramatic selection was the "Jubel Overture" by Weber; almost wild in movement it speaks of uncontrolled fervor and rejoicing for one's country, weaving its spirit of praise into the wonderful climax, our national anthem.

The entire program was well received and Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone is worthy of hearty appreciation for the time she gave, and the personnel of the Study Club deserve admiration for their splendid work and best wishes in their ventures in the realm of music.

CITY SCHOOLS ARE ENDING THE WORK

Important that Children be not Allowed to Leave School Until the Final Wind-up

SCHOOL OBSERVE MEMORIAL

Walter Wieland, of the Class of 1905, will be the Speaker of the Day, of School Interest

The city schools have now entered upon the last stage of the year's work and teachers and students are now looking toward reviews, local and state examination and finally the closing of school and commencement.

As has been pointed out many times before it is very important for parents to see to it that pupils be not allowed to leave school until the final windup on the last day. A good finish is just as important as a good beginning and no child is sure of making a good ending if he is permitted to miss even a few days or a week at the end of the year as final examination enters into the makeup of final standings.

The state examinations this year begin on May 26, and continue through June 1st. Every opportunity and encouragement should be given to pupils, especially the older ones for proper home study and as little outside distraction and diversion as possible on study nights.

During the past few years each year has seen the introduction of some new feature in the schools in response to some public necessity or demand.

The present year witnessed the introduction of the agriculture work as a part of the regular school curriculum and we believe its record has fully justified the trial. Although still in the experimental stage this department has from the start been most live and active and its activities have reached not only the pupils of the high school and grades but have included a territory considerably beyond the confines of the city. In addition to the milk testing for both quality and purity, some seed and soil testing has been carried on during the winter and extension work has been conducted at some of the nearby rural schools. Just at present Mr. Pfinghoft and his classes of boys are engaged in addition to class room work, in beautifying the high school grounds with shrubbery and flower beds and in looking after the school hot house and school plots in Northeast and Southeast Brainerd. Considerable attention has been given during the last month or two to chicken raising and a hatching of chickens will soon be turned out from the incubator in the agricultural rooms.

During the present month state Supt. Schultz spent a very full day visiting and inspecting the Brainerd schools in every section of the city and met with the school board to consult and advise with reference to the general school situation and plan for the future. The state superintendent expressed himself as highly pleased with the general educational conditions in this city and the personnel of the board, nearly all of whom he had opportunity to meet. He was especially gratified with the strenuous efforts the board of education is making to maintain a high quality of industrial work under somewhat difficult local conditions.

At the recent state meeting of superintendents and principals held in Minneapolis, the Brainerd schools were represented by the high school principal and the superintendent. The meeting was very largely attended and some of the most vital school questions of the present day were discussed by experts, such as Dean Bazley of Illinois, Dean Culler of Stafford University, and Prof. Prosser of Dunwoody Institute. The Gary school idea, especially in its present form, was rather roughly handled.

The junior high school idea seems to be growing in public favor and within a few years most of the better schools will have made a start toward introducing many of the newer high school subjects, into the 7th and 8th grades.

In Brainerd our so-called "mixed trade" is a step in that direction.

On Friday evening of this week the annual class play will be given in the opera house, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the purchase of a class memorial to be donated to the school.

Every effort has been made to see that the play, "The Professor's Love Story," be free from any objectionable features, incompatible with the spirit and purpose of school ideals.

During the baby week exercises last week, the freshmen girls of the cooking class served tea and wafers to the mothers on Thursday afternoon and the normal girls did likewise on Friday.

Memorial day exercises will be observed by the schools this year as usual, with the additional fact of peculiar interest, that for the first time, the speaker of the day will be a high school alumna, Lawyer Walter Wieland of the class of 1905. An unusually large representation of school children is expected in the parade and the high school will doubtless turn out in a body to show their appreciation of the recognition shown to one of their former graduates.

Commencement exercises will be held on Monday evening, June 5, this year and the address will be given by Dr. J. E. Bushnell of Westminster Presbyterian church of Minneapolis.

On Sunday evening, May 28, union baccalaureate services will be held in the high school assembly room and all churches are invited to join in this non-denominational class service at the school building. Chairs on the platform will be reserved for all the pastors of the city, who care to join in this service.

Mr. Pfinghoft secured the services of Prof. Leroy Cady, head of the department of horticulture at the State University, to assist in the plans for beautifying the high school grounds. Prof. Cady gave a most interesting and instructive illustrated lecture at the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening.

Beginning June 12, one of the state summer schools for teachers will be held at Bemidji, and credit work in advanced subjects may be secured the same as at the state normal schools. In addition to the special industrial teachers, Superintendents Dyer, Lurten, Franklin and Cobb will give their time to the school.

An exhibit of the manual training work done during the year will be announced soon and the work accomplished in this department will be a credit to Mr. Kimball, the director.

A field day for both grade and high school students is being arranged by Principal Denison and the men teachers of the high school to take place on the first convenient Saturday.

The Junior reception to the Seniors this year will probably be given at the high school building and the banquet served by Miss Sheldon and the domestic science girls. As this will necessitate serving a dinner to nearly one hundred, no little interest will be aroused to see how successfully such an undertaking can be handled.

The chemistry class at the high school are devoting the latter part of the year to the analysis of foods and food products.

Portugal the Polite.

Portugal has been acclaimed as the politest country in the world. Were I asked, wrote the Earl of Carnarvon after visiting that country in 1827, what society had reached the most polished form I should say that of Portugal. Portuguese politeness is delightful because it is by no means purely artificial, but flows in a great measure from a natural kindness of feeling and extends to all classes and affects all relationships.—London Standard.

STATE GEOGRAPHICAL NAMES AND THEIR HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE

(Prepared by the Minnesota Historical Society for the United Press)

Jackson County

It is usually stated that this county was named in honor of Henry Jackson, who came from Virginia to St. Paul in 1842 and established the first store on the river bank near Jackson street, St. Paul. The street in St. Paul was undoubtedly named for him, but the Hon. William Pitt Murray, who was a member of the legislature in 1857 when the county was established, stated that it was named in honor of Andrew Jackson, president of the United States from 1829 to 1837.

WHAT THE VETERANS THINK OF BUCKMAN

Paul Noe of this city, one of the well-known veterans of the Civil war, and prominent in G. A. R. circles of the Park Region encampment, states to the Transcript that the old soldiers of the Sixth district are almost unanimous for former Congressman C. B. Buckman for re-election. Mr. Noe states that no man ever sent to congress from Minnesota gave more of his time to every little detail of the claims and rights of the old soldier than C. B. Buckman, who went in person willingly and cheerfully to the pension department to present the cases. "We appreciate Mr. Buckman's persistent and steadfast efforts in our behalf," said Mr. Noe, "and we are going to show our appreciation at the polls June 19. He is a patriotic American, a friend to the farmer, workingman and business man and a safe man to represent the Sixth district of Minnesota. And what's more he will be nominated and elected by an overwhelming majority. If you want to please us old soldiers vote for C. B. Buckman." Little Falls Transcript.

U. S. Soldiers in Mexico Write Letters With Bullets

(By United Press)

Columbus, N. M., May 9.—One of the hundreds of bullets the American soldier boys are using to write letters to their wives, mothers or sweethearts may later kill Villa or some other Mexican bandit. The soldiers write most of their letters with bullets, on the cardboard ends of shoe boxes. Pens, pencils and stationery are among the equipment abandoned by the expedition, so it could travel light and fast.

Several of the shoe box letters state that these are "written with the bullet that's going to kill Villa. The shoe box letters are delivered unopened, as postal cards. A big bag full of them arrives here every few days by aeroplane.

The Soul of a Nation.

The Nelson monument, set among the lions at Trafalgar square, the tattered battleflags in the Church of St. Louis almost touching the tomb of Napoleon, the trophies of war treasured in public galleries in all great nations of the world, are not symbols of victories or of heroes and conquerors, but expressions of that unity of spirit which makes the soul of a nation. There is no true patriotism, no true love of country, without this unity of spirit. No true nation exists or can exist without it. It is a thing which money cannot buy or mere material wealth create.—George W. Alger in Atlantic Monthly.

A Range of Possibilities.

"I have been told," said the confident performer, "that I make my violin sound like the human voice."

"Yes," replied the candid friend, "but there are so many kinds of human voices."—Washington Star.

The Human Falcon Bags Enemy Aerob

BY WILBUR S. FORREST
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)
 London, May 9.—The war has developed the "human falcon."

Aerial fighters and aeronautical experts throughout Europe today are discussing Germany's super-hawk, Lieutenant Immelmann. Advice just received in England from the vicinity of Lille, France, and from Germany tell for the first time the falconish methods of the champion Teutonic Fokker Flyer whose total bag to date is officially announced as fifteen allied aeroplanes.

Immelmann's secret of offensive air fighting is extremely simple. He sights his quarry—an allied aeroplane bent on reconnaissance duty or aerial photography, somewhere over the German lines near Lille. The Falcon leaves the ground and wings to a great height, an altitude of 13,000 feet or more. When he has maneuvered over his adversary, he sets his planes and makes one long, terrific, downward swoop. The plan is to pass diagonally behind his opponent at the rate of perhaps 200 miles an hour. His machine gun is primed and ready. When he enters a prescribed area the bullets begin to fly. Just like the falcon, that member of the hawk family which tries once and strikes its mark or misses, Immelmann either bags his "bird" at one swoop or wings back to his aerodrome a failure. He never returns to the attack. He empties one drum of bullets and, hit or miss, continues his dive until it takes him home.

In Germany Immelmann is a national hero. He is called "The Eagle of Lille." More graphic details of Immelmann's method of attack are contained in a letter just received in London from Lieutenant R. J. Slade of the British flying service. Slade is one of the German Falcon's fifteen victims and now a prisoner at Fursenberg. Slade and his pilot, Captain Darley, Royal Flying Corps, were on reconnaissance duty over the German lines near Lille. The Falcon saw them. "Suddenly from somewhere out of the air, Immelmann swooped down behind us," declared the British officer. "He opened fire with his machine gun before we were aware of his presence."

The stream of lead from Fokker riddled the Briton's petrol tank. Captain Darley, in charge of controls, tried to escape by a sudden nose dive. The Falcon followed with accuracy. A steady stream of lead found its mark. Captain Darley was shot through the right arm, while the thumb of his right hand was reduced to a pulp. In midair, thousands of feet above the earth, the letter explains, Slade was forced to lean over and amputate Darley's shattered thumb with his penknife. It was an easy operation, as only skin and shredded flesh held the member.

Throughout that time the German aviator continued his steady fire. Slade's clothing was riddled with lead but he miraculously escaped. The pilot was again wounded in the left hand, but with his injured right arm he maneuvered his machine toward earth and made a perilous landing.

Immelmann, by this time, has winged out of range and, performing a circle, he landed his machine to render what assistance he could.

Lieutenant Slade's letter described how the German airman behaved in such a kindly manner toward his captives that he won their admiration. The letter concludes:

"He is a gentleman, and if we ever capture him, I hope he will be treated as such."

The Swiss System Military Training

NOTE.—This is the fifth of a series of five articles by Shepherd dealing with the Swiss system of military training for citizens in its relation to the possibilities of a similar system in the United States.—Editor.

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)
 Berne, May 5.—"All Swiss owe their country a military service."

These are the first words in the Swiss military rule book. We haven't any book printed in the United States, available to the masses, that says any such thing. These words democratize the Swiss army. If the United States were to be forced into war, our regiments would be commanded, in the main, by the young men of our rich families. This happened in the Spanish-American war. Political pull, based on wealth and influence, placed in the hands of almost any rich young man who cared to assume the responsibility, the lives of some hundreds of good average American citizens. This couldn't happen in the Swiss army. When a Swiss soldier goes out to fight, he knows he is under a trained officer, selected by experts and tried. Just being rich doesn't get you anywhere in the Swiss army. Being rich doesn't keep you out of the army, either. It isn't any training of the Plattsburg camp variety that takes you to the top in the Swiss army. It's brains and ability. The Swiss rule is that everybody must start in the ranks.

As a man shows special adaptability he is forced to take special examinations for promotion. He cannot refuse a promotion. The examinations are rigid; the kind social pull can't overcome. The result is that, whether a youth comes from the poorest or the richest, he must be whatever his ability makes him. The rich man's son may remain a private all his life while the son of the poorest man in the neighborhood may be his military superior. Only a democratic army like this, military men in Europe say, is safe and strong. There is rottenness and fatal weakness in an army where social position and wealth avail.

In Chiasso, Switzerland, I saw the clerk in Luigi Corti's grocery store step out on the sidewalk in his sergeant's uniform, just as the son of the village banker went by in his automobile. The banker's son saluted Luigi's clerk, because the clerk's uniform indicated that Luigi's clerk was a better man, as a soldier, than the banker's son.

And any country that does want to keep alive and whole must have plenty of citizens who can become full fledged soldiers at a moment's notice.

Looking over the armies of Europe, which I have seen, I am led to believe that the American military system is the worst of them all. It's a dangerous system, with leadership based on many other things than ability. It is permeated with politics. From this distance and this place, it looks like a papier mache revolver that will make the other fellow shoot but that can't be shot itself. It isn't the fault of our standing army or of our army men. It's the fault of the American citizen, who doesn't realize that he isn't the straightest shooting, finest muscled, best soldier material in the world.

AVOID MISAPPREHENSION

Fact Regarding County Tubercular Sanatorium Submitted by the Executive Secretary

An article recently appeared in the Fergus Falls paper attempting to show that there were too many boards or commissions connected with the Otter Tail county sanatorium, and that due to these boards the institution was "top heavy" and could never be run with economy. The following boards were enumerated: The County Sanatorium Commission, the Board of County Commissioners, the State Board of Health, the State Board of Control and the Advisory Commission.

Since all the people of Minnesota are interested in the campaign against tuberculosis, and since so many new sanatoria are about to open their doors, it would seem proper to present the true facts in order that misimpressions may be avoided. Accordingly, Dr. Robinson Bosworth, executive secretary of the advisory board, submits the following statement for publication:

"There are two distinct periods in the development of a sanatorium: first the period of its construction, and second the period of its usefulness or maintenance. As those in authority in the county are county commissioners, they must primarily act as one of the five boards mentioned above. As they are busy men and have other interests demanding their time, they are authorized to appoint a special board of county sanatorium commission of three members, to take entire charge of the sanatorium affairs. Another reason why this special board of county sanatorium commission is appointed is to enable a county to obtain the services of those men who are best fitted to handle the affairs of the sanatorium. The county is thus represented solely by the county sanatorium commission.

Now then, the state pays half of the cost of building the sanatorium so the advisory commission, as the state's representative, considers the needs of the county for having such an institution; inspects the building location to see if it is a suitable one for the sanatorium; inspects the plans for the building to see that they will be what they should be to properly care for the consumptives, as well as the equipment that goes into the building. They also arrange for the expenditure of the state's share in this program.

The connection of the remaining two State Boards is temporary only. The State Board of Health examines the sanitary arrangements, such as the water supply and sewage disposal. It has no further connection with the buildings or management of the sanatorium unless questions of sewage disposal or water supply arise in the future. Like all hospitals or public buildings the sanatorium reports to the State Board of Health on the admission and discharge of tuberculous patients, and the institution may be inspected by the State Board of Health whenever it sees fit.

The Board of Control is the building agent for the state so far as the county sanatoria are concerned. It is a board especially equipped for this purpose and its sole connection with the county sanatoria is as building agent. When the sanatorium is completed the Board of Control has no further dealings with the sanatorium unless by special request they are asked by the superintendent to aid in the purchase of supplies.

So then, as far as management and maintenance of the sanatorium is concerned, there are two boards; the County Sanatorium Commission and the Advisory Commission of the Minnesota Sanatorium for Consumptives.

The county is paid $5.00 per week by the state for each free case treated by the county in the maintenance of the sanatorium. This is to aid sanatorium and is paid only after an inspection made by the Advisory Commission which shows that the Sanatorium is properly caring for its patients. The expenses of the sanatorium are in no way increased by the connection with it of the Advisory Commission. On the contrary they are considerable less than would be the case otherwise. So then the facts are that instead of there being five boards connected with the management of the County Sanatorium, there are two boards; the County Sanatorium Commission, representing the county, and the Advisory Commission representing the state."

MANY men are realizing the joys of chewing rich tobacco ever since W-B CUT Chewing—the long shred Real Tobacco Chew first arrived in town. The small chew with less spitting and grinding won them over to W-B CUT Chewing—no more big wads of the ordinary kind for them.

You know W-B CUT Chewing by the satisfaction of a quality chew. "Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste." Made by WEYMAN BRUTON COMPANY, 50 Union Square, New York City

BAD STORM AT SYLVAN

Sunday's Rain and Wind Did Considerable Damage to Buildings, Breaking Windows, Etc.

Seth Phillips informs the Dispatch that the storm on Sunday took many chimneys down at Sylvan and did other damage. Peter Yde's store, the Ramsey and Palmer residences all losing their chimneys, windows were broken and the shingles and even the roofs in some instances being torn away, and some were twisted on their foundations. The wind storm of yesterday did considerable damage to wheat and oats, blowing the soil off the grain just starting up and leaving the roots exposed. Sand drifted in some places to the depth of several inches. Mr. Phillips said it was the worst storm experienced there in years.

They were surprised to find ore so near the surface and especially on a country road. The iron has been preserved and is being exhibited by the crew.

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

Ku Klux Klan's Warning to its Victims Were Three Dried Peas

The Ku Klux Klan's warning to intended victims was three dried peas. Singular, but the order itself was singular and did nothing after conventional lines. These would be sent the marked man at intervals and no word to accompany them. If he were residing in the south during those troublous days, he would know the significance of those mysterious, but seemingly harmless peas and if he were guilty of a misdeed against either the cause of the south, and of its traditions or the silent, deadly band who thus remembered him, his days were surely numbered and there was no escape from their vengeance but by death at his own hand—and seldom was there that.

One dared not breathe the name of the organization for fear his nearest neighbor might belong to it and many a man suddenly disappeared because of unguardedly making a careless remark about the Ku Klux Klan.

When first hastily gotten together, it is said, these modern knights enrolled the best and noblest blood in the Old South, but after their specific mission was completed and a stable law regulated the rights of the southern people, their services were no longer required and they disbanded, when the hoodlums and desperate characters of the land took up the order and used it to cover their own deeds, thus bringing down upon the name of the "Clansmen" the odious reputation they have ever since borne.

Many blood curdling tales were told of their doings and secret and deadly workings.

The rides and rescues of the Ku Klux so graphically, dramatically set forth in "The Birth of a Nation" are those of the original, right-enforcing organization of true sons of the Old South.

"The Birth of a Nation" with its wonderful symphony orchestra, of thirty high class artists, will be the attraction at the Brainerd opera house for one week starting on Sunday, May 14, with matinees daily at 2:15, and nights at 8:30.

Seats on sale at Dunn's drug store. Prices for the matinees are 50c, 75c and $1.00, and for the night performances 50c, $1.00 and $1.50. All mail order will be filled in the order of their receipt, and must be accompanied by remittances and a self-addressed and stamped return envelope.

"ANURIC!"

THE NEWEST

DISCOVERY IN CHEMISTRY

This is a recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, who is head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Doctor Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid that can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, it is simply wonderful how surely "Anuric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear. Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "Anuric," manufactured by Dr. Pierce, or even write Doctor Pierce for a free sample. If you suspect kidney or bladder trouble, send him a sample of your water and describe symptoms. Doctor Pierce's chemist will examine it, then Dr. Pierce will report to you, without fee or charge.

NOTE:—French scientists affirm that "Anuric" is thirty-seven times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid, and is a harmless but reliable chemical compound that may be safely given to children, but should be used only by grown-ups who actually wish to restore their kidneys to perfect health, by conscientiously using one box—or more in extreme cases—as "Anuric" (thanks to Doctor Pierce's achievement) is by far the most perfect kidney and bladder corrector obtainable.

SCOTT PRESENTS FRESH DEMANDS

Recent Bandit Raids Create Grave Situation.

NO AGREEMENT IS REACHED

Efforts to Effect an Understanding Regarding the Status of American Soldiers in Mexico Will Be Continued at the Next Conference.

El Paso, Tex., May 9.—New demands were made on Mexico as a result of the bandit raids in the Big Bend district.

The feeling is growing here that the situation as affecting the United States and Mexico has taken on new gravity.

The conference between Generals Scott and Funston and General Obregon, Mexican minister of war, and Juan Amador, subsecretary of foreign affairs, ended without an agreement having been reached.

It was indicated, however, that efforts to effect an understanding regarding the status of the American troops in Mexico have not been abandoned and that another conference will be held.

Most of the conference had to do with the raid and the steps to be taken to disperse bandit groups in Northern Coahuila.

Demands presented to the Mexican representatives, it is said, included the co-operation of the Mexican and American troops in districts not hitherto touched in the negotiations.

General Funston refused to indicate whether a second expeditionary force is to go into Mexico near Boquilla.

He said that circumstances made it impossible for him to speak.

He was asked if a report from Washington that troops may already have crossed was true.

He replied that he believed they had "not yet" gone over.

LINEMAN BLOWN TO DEATH

Falls Sixty Feet From Pole When Lifebelt Breaks.

St. Paul, May 9.—One man dead and a woman injured was the direct toll in St. Paul of a wind which maintained a velocity of forty-six miles an hour most of the day. Half a dozen small fires, fanned into being by the wind, caused two injuries to two more and property loss of several thousand dollars.

D. Robert Eccarius, forty-five years old, died within an hour after the wind hurled him to the ground from the top of a sixty-foot pole on which he was working. His lifebelt snapped under the terrific pressure.

With other workmen he was repairing lines of the Northern States Power company broken by Sunday's gale.

DECLARES ENGLAND HAS AMERICAN CODE

New York, May 9.—"The British government knew the contents of Germany's reply to the United States at least twelve hours before the American state department."

This charge is made here by an eminent German, who is close to the German embassy, who went even further, saying:

"For many months Downing street, which is in possession of the American secret diplomatic code, has had advance information as to the contents of every official and private message exchanged between Berlin and Washington."

"Ambassador Gerard in Berlin knows this. Every attache at the American embassy knows it, and the German government knows it. Moreover, it is moderately certain that the American state department knows it, for it received—not once, but repeatedly—communications from Ambassador Gerard urgently requesting the adoption of a new code."

DRYS PLAN FULL TICKET

Candidates for All Minnesota Offices Intended.

Minneapolis, May 9.—The Prohibition party will put a full state ticket in the field this year, for the first time, according to W. G. Calderwood, the party's candidate for United States senator. T. J. Anderson of Belgrade, who was urged to run for governor, has declined, but another candidate will be found, Mr. Calderwood said.

Washington, May 9.—A standing army of 250,000 men provided for in the senate amendment to the army bill was rejected by the house, 221 to 152. The house bill provided for 140,000 men.

The senate's plan to provide for a volunteer army of 261,000 was rejected by a vote of 251 to 109.

THREE GUILTY OF PLOTS

Jury Convicts Lieutenant Fay and Two Others.

New York, May 9.—The jury which for ten days heard testimony at the trial of Robert Fay, a former lieutenant in the German army; Walter Scholz and Paul Daeche, charged with conspiracy to destroy munition ships through bomb contrivances, returned a verdict of guilty against all the defendants.

The jury deliberated five hours and, in reaching a verdict, asked for clemency in behalf of Daeche, who, according to his own statements and those of Fay and Scholz, was only an employee of Fay.

GERMAN CONSUL IS UNDER INDICTMENT

New York, May 9.—Carl A. Ludritz, German consul at Baltimore, was indicted by the federal grand jury, charged with aiding Horst von der Goltz, the man who has by his own confession figured in several alleged German plots to obtain a false American passport.

The grand jury also handed down a new indictment against Wolfe von Igel, former secretary of Captain Franz von Papen, charging him with conspiracy to defraud the United States by shipping lubricating oils to Germany falsely manifested as fertilizer.

Dr. Walter D. Scheele, already indicted in the "fire bomb" plot, and Gustave Sternberg, aide of Franz von Rintelen, German agent, were also indicted for conspiring to falsify a ship's manifest in sending a cargo of lubricating oil to Germany.

Antipodean Troops Arrive.

London, May 9.—Australian and New Zealand troops have arrived in France and have taken over a portion of the front, it was announced in an official statement.

FOUR PERISH IN FLAMES

Fire Completely Destroys Farm Home Near Warroad, Minn.

Warroad, Minn., May 9.—When fire destroyed the home of Herman Ingman, a farmer, living near Warroad, Ingman, his aged mother, his sister and his son, George, were trapped by the flames and burned to death.

Five other members of the family were rescued, but Mrs. Ingman, wife of the farmer, and her oldest daughter, were badly burned.

The fire is supposed to have started from an incubator which was in the cellar of the house. George, aged nineteen, was the first to be awakened, but was overcome by heat and smoke while attempting to arouse the others.

URGES BETTER TEAM WORK

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt Addresses Suffragists.

Minneapolis, May 9.—Stronger organization within every state and greater team work between the states would bring nationwide suffrage to the women of the United States in the next five years.

This was the statement made before 300 women attending the Mississippi Valley suffrage conference here.

Forty years' cumulative experience in campaigning for the ballot was summed up in the urgent appeal of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt to work systematically, rather than in the hit and miss manner that has characterized the campaigns in many states.

Shipping Bill Introduced.

Washington, May 9.—Chairman Alexander of the merchant marine committee introduced in the house the revised administration shipping bill and Democratic leaders will expedite consideration of the measure after the pending rural credits bill is out of the way.

HUGHES' CHANCES NOW SEEM BEST

If He Refuses Parly May Nominate Roosevelt.

BOOM OF ROOT REVIVED.

Experts Say That if There is a Stampede at Chicago Convention It Will Not Be Toward Colonel, but Toward Supreme Court Justice—Expect Action on One of the Early Ballots.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 9.—[Special.]—Political interest centers around the Republican candidate for president. Everybody continues to ask, "Who will be the Republican candidate?" Another question of striking importance is, "What will Roosevelt do?"

The general opinion continues to be that Justice Hughes will be nominated, and the belief is that he will accept in case the nomination comes to him with such substantial unanimity as to indicate a general desire for him upon the part of the delegates who will compose the convention. This would naturally mean the nomination on an early ballot after favorite sons had received the complimentary votes under the instructions of their states.

Should the Contest Be Long.

The attitude of Justice Hughes may be governed by conditions in the convention. If the contest should be long drawn out and many ballots necessary there is a possibility of a statement coming from him declaring that the use of his name is unauthorized and demanding that his name be withdrawn from consideration. In that event it would be almost anybody's fight, with the chances much in favor of Roosevelt. It is doubted by Republican leaders whether Roosevelt can be nominated if Hughes' name remains before the convention, and many of them predict that in case of a stampede it will not be toward Roosevelt, but toward Hughes.

Revival of the Root Boom.

About the most interesting phase of the political situation at the present time is the revival of the boom for Elihu Root. Just what authority there is for the belief is doubtful, but it is claimed that delegates now favorable to Hughes, in case the justice should peremptorily decline to have his name used, will turn to the former New York senator. It comes from men who say that Roosevelt would be willing to support Root. The probabilities, however, are that no one will know whom Roosevelt is willing to support until after the convention is in full swing and that his preferences will not be made until developments indicate that he cannot be nominated.

The House Can Make Speed.

The house of representatives is equipped with machinery to make speed in the enactment of legislation. This was shown in adopting three important amendments to the agricultural bill with only four hours' debate, although more than two weeks had been consumed in the consideration of unimportant and almost infinitesimal matters which the bill contains every year. The cotton futures bill, the grain grading bill and the warehouse bill would have consumed a great deal of time in the house if brought up separately and without limitation as to debate. Complaint is made that these bills were made a part of the agricultural appropriation bill, but that is about the only way that they could be passed, as the unlimited debate privilege in the senate would likely have caused the defeat of all of them.

Opposed by Madden.

One of the bills that were attached to the agricultural appropriation bill was vigorously opposed by Congressman Madden of Chicago. "It is ridiculous, outrageous, unjustifiable and has no business in the house. It is ruinous to the country," were his comments on the bill, and he added, "After you have enumerated all of the inquiries I have described and a hundred others the bill is all right."

"It seems the gentleman is opposed to this bill," was the comment of Congressman Cox of Indiana.

Uncle Joe in Water.

An admirer of former Speaker Cannon recently sent him a photograph showing the picture of Nevada falls, one of the western scenic features of the Rocky mountains. It happened that one part of the waterfall made a good likeness of the speaker. To his correspondent Uncle Joe wrote: "I suspect that the profile of water is quite as close a resemblance as the cartoons

In the public press and, I hope, with out the same suggestion of wickedness." The absence of the cigar in the picture probably led Uncle Joe to make that last remark.

School Children and Documents.

The printing bill, which has been pending for some time, furnished an opportunity for the discussion of the distribution of public documents. Former Speaker Cannon told the house that he frequently received requests for as many as 200 copies of certain documents. He said that these requests were prompted by a round robin of some kind, for each boy and girl asked for the same identical document, and that would not be the case unless some one, probably their schoolteacher, had suggested it.
